How can I carry this out if my domain provider is NameCheap: Add a CNAME record for your subdomain: Set the subdomain (e.g., bcft-ai) as the host. Set username.github.io. (with the trailing dot) as the target.

Certainly! To add a CNAME record for your subdomain with Namecheap, follow these steps:

1. Log in to your Namecheap account.
2. Click on Domain List and select the domain you want to add the subdomain to.
3. Go to the Advanced DNS tab.
4. In the Host Records section, click the Add New Record button.

Now, choose one of the following options based on your needs:

- Subdomain that points to an IP address:
 - Select A Record for the Type.
 - Enter the Host (your subdomain, e.g., bcft-ai) and the IP address you want to point it to.
 - Save the changes.
- Subdomain that points to another domain name (using CNAME or ALIAS):
 - CNAME Record:
 - Select CNAME Record for the Type.
 - Enter your desired Host (e.g., bcft-ai) and the record value (e.g., username.github.io. with the trailing dot).
 - Save the changes.
 - ALIAS Record (if you want to alias the root domain):
 - Select ALIAS Record for the Type.
 - Enter the Host (e.g., bcft-ai) and the destination hostname (e.g., example.com).
 - Save the changes.
- Subdomain that forwards to a link/URL:
 - Select URL Redirect Record for the Type.
 - Enter the Host (e.g., bcft-ai) and the destination link/URL.
 - Choose the appropriate forward type (Unmasked/Masked/Permanent 301).
 - Save the changes.
- Subdomain that points to a server name:
 - Select NS Record for the Type.
 - Enter the Host (e.g., bcft-ai) and the server name.

- Save the changes.

Remember that it may take up to 30 minutes for newly created records to take effect¹. If you encounter any issues, feel free to ask for further assistance! 😊
